

OPPOSITES

Level 2-3

We don't always agree on the rugby field. Here, if a spectator calls out one thing, you call out the opposite by writing it under their sentence, like the example below.

A cartoon character with a grey beard and a blue jersey with white shorts is shown. He has a speech bubble that says "The ball went forward!".

The ball went forward!

The ball went over!

Catch the ball!

The ball was in!
The ball was out!

A cartoon character wearing a blue cap and a blue jacket is shown. He has a speech bubble that says "The ball was in!".

The ball was in!

A cartoon character with a bandaged leg is shown. He has two speech bubbles: "You've done the wrong move!" and "What a great try!".

You've done the wrong move!

What a great try!

A cartoon character sitting on a green bench is shown. He has two speech bubbles: "Make a low tackle!" and "She can run really fast!".

Make a low tackle!

She can run really fast!

A cartoon character with a colorful headband is shown. He has two speech bubbles: "Oh, not straight ref!" and "We won!".

Oh, not straight ref!

We won!
