

--	--	--

--	--	--

 A diagram showing five five-pointed stars arranged in a circle. The stars are of varying sizes, with the largest at the top and bottom, and the smallest in the center. They are arranged in a circular pattern, similar to the stars on the flag of the European Union.
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--

